WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF

PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, GENERAL DEBILITY, AND ALL SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

This preparation has succeeded from its first introduction, in combining the Oil and Lime so perfectly that the taste of the Oil, which is so nauseous to persons generally, is entirely overcome, and it can be taken by the most delicate females with pleasure. And as regards its efficacy, it is a fact which cannot be doubted, the following testimonial being sufficient to convince the most incredulous. The young lady was twenty-four years of age.

Her disease was one of long standing, in which she had expected to terminate in the course of a few months. The upper part of both her lungs were full of tubercles, and in some places were beginning to ripen. The case was evidently incurable. The treatment of Cod Liver Oil was at first tried, but without marked improvement. The physician of her family was then asked to try it, and the result was in the case of her sister was so apparent. The patient was rapidly recovering.

CAUTION.—On account of the great reputation of Cod Liver Oil, and the complaints of the substitution of Foreign Oil, we would caution the public against purchasing any other than that manufactured by him, as he has the sole right in the United States for combining the Oil with Lime in a proper manner. There is no other Lime Juice manufactured by

PATENT SELF HEATING

SMOOTHING IRON!

MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, relieving and facilitating the labor of man by machinery and other modern implements, but few males have been nearly neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron, which will relieve them, in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of ironing, besides being a great saving of time and expense. This Iron combines economy, convenience saving of labor and despatch. One can't with a very choice of appointed for a whole day's constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room or in the open air. Hatters' and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle and possess equal superiority.

PROFESSOR ALEX. C. BARRY'S

or Medicated Compound,

FOR beautifying, improving, and preserving the Hair, curing cuts, bruises, burns, stings, rheumatism and all irritations of the skin. A trial portion the sale of which amounts to one million of bottles annually, would seem to need no advertisement, but as the thousands who purchase, use and approve of it have probably no dealt the extraordinary extent of the business done by Professor Barry, he gives herewith a plain statement of facts derived from his books and with them renders his earnest and hearty thanks to his numerous friends and patrons.

Professor Barry's amounts of sales for the year 1852, show that during that year about 910,000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of and that the gross product of this immense sale was nearly $400,000.

This plain unvarnished sale is a better commentary on the value of the article than any thing its inventor could say. If it were not peculiarly efficacious upon the hair—if it were not a valuable and useful remedy for cuts, bruises, burns, stings, diseases, &c.—it would not of course be so much in demand. The wealthy portion of the public would buy it at any price but Professor Barry's has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits.

Sold in large bottles, price 25 cents, at wholesale and retail at the manufactory and depot 137 Broadway, New York, and by the principal druggists throughout the United States and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c.

TESTIMONIALS

The following certificate from Dr. John C. Warren, of Boston, was given 17 years since but will last forever.

Boston, Feb 5 1833

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia have suffered much from the want of a useful instrument to keep and adjust Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have been pleased to inform myself of the competency of Mr. J. F. Foster to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Beatty. After some months of observation of his work, I am well satisfied that Mr. Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and inspired me to recommend to the notice of persons of this city who may need such instruments, and I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren in the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to these important articles.

JOHN C. WARREN, M. D.

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are painfully afflicted with the rupture Mr. James Frederick Foster, as a skillful and competent person in the manufacture and fitting of Trusses. We have employed him (some of us for twenty years) and thereby have spared from personal inconvenience in the business and the expense of many dollars, in our opinion equal, if not superior to any in consequence of the skillful fitting of his Truss, which period Mr. Foster avoided himself of the opportunity, and made application to Dr. Warren for a certificate of cases which were of a very complicated and distressing character.

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss, that the greatest relief consists in its adaptation to the body, at the same time retaining the rupture. Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss that will hold but a skillful fitter is an apply it in such a manner as effectually and obstinately radical cure the most difficult.

Our experience has convinced us that Mr. Foster has thoroughly attained this knowledge, as certified by J. C. Warren and other eminent surgeons, which has shown to us, fully sustain the opinion we here express.

Great Excitement!

Among Carriage Makers.

THE subscribers have purchased the right to make use and sell for the Counties of Penobscot, Piscataquis, Washington, Hancock, Washington and Aroostook. The advantages of the above coupling over the old method of connecting the shafts to the carriage are so great that it must come into general use when it is properly understood. Heretofore wheels could not be used, and we get rid of the gallows irons, as the wheels do not strike the body and the carriage turns in a very small compass, the hind wheels not describing more than 4 to 6 feet circle. It is perfectly simple, and not so liable to get out of order as the old method. Those who have used the above report fully satisfied of its merits, as certificates hereto show. It can be attached to old carriages at a small expense, and we are prepared to sell the right for shops, towns, &c., or we will sell a part of the above mentioned County, at such rates that any smart man, with a small capital could realize a great profit from the sale of the above. Any persons wishing information will receive immediate attention, if a stamp be inclosed, or by dropping us a line by mail post paid.

We have leave to refer to Messrs. T. B. Merrill & Chase & Litchfield, and C. S. Cone, Esq., who are using the same. D. W. OKELL & CO.

EGYPT, PYRAMIDS OF GHEZEH.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We realized the anticipated pleasure, to which I alluded in my last letter, in visiting the tombs of Beni Hassan, eighty miles below Grand Cairo, where I first wrote. These tombs are interesting on account of their antiquity, though recently, I believe, by those who profess to be well in early Egyptian history, that some of them were excavated in the time of Osiaseph I. I have already had occasion to call attention to the reign of this king and Joseph in the three came into Egypt.

Of the tombs of Beni Hassan, which are hewn out of the rock, from the Nile on the east, and the Libyan chain on the west, overlooking the fertile Arabian plain, we visited the deep square pits, which, unlike all other places, they are not found, however, in Egypt. Visiting them, we were at great expense and care in order to see, without any regard to relative position, but often near the door of the great sepulchral chamber, about twenty feet square, and varying in depth from twenty to forty feet. The bodies of kings, or persons, probably those not entitled to the highest degrees of honor, were deposited in the [illegible]. These subterranean chambers in the place are not so large as those of the kings and queens in the mountains of Thebes, but can hardly be said, I think, that they are inferior in architectural beauty. Certain proportions of the rooms and the beauty of the colors with which they are ornamented, indicate artistic conceptions, which could hardly be expected in the very early age which assigns them. The shafts of some of the columns are fluted polygons of sixteen sides, differing in style from any we had seen before, and from the similarity which they bear to columns in other countries, it may be supposed, that the architects of Egypt, who executed works could not fail to set out being widely known, taught the Grecian, who had the influence in the progress and perfection of Greek art.

The tombs of Beni Hassan are especially remarkable for the greater part of their sculptures and paintings, which are in most almost exclusively connected with the [illegible] of the Nile and with [illegible] are [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] are [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and must necessarily have come to the conclusion from the work itself, that it was built at the price of the most unjust exactions, and had its foundations laid in blood.

At a little distance from the great pyramid is the colossal phynx, which no traveler willingly leaves Egypt without seeing. Its enormous body is partially buried in the sand; but its head and majestic features are still erect and lofty. The sphynx, a mystical emblem, in its design, of the combination of intelligence and power, is a sculptured human form in its upper parts, attached to the recumbent body of a lion. The body is a little less than a hundred and fifty feet in length. The fore-legs and paws of the lion-shaped body extend to the distance of fifty feet. Such is the statement of its measurements made by travelers, who have had leisure and opportunity to examine it carefully. The human breast and head, which lift themselves upward out of the immense sculpture which constitutes the leaning base, is more than sixty feet in height. The circumference of the head around the full, projecting forehead, is a hundred feet, all cut out with the exception of one or two small portions, from one solid rock.

No object in Egypt, among the multitude of its objects of interest, fixed my attention more deeply that this. So vast and so full of life, it had to me the appearance of some mighty existence, lifting itself by its own power from the deep bosom of the earth. Its features are worn and mutilated by time, but it requires no great effort of the immagination, aided by the mysterious power of what still remains, to call them back, and to restore something of the original completeness of the mighty image. Its lips, diminished by the attrition of the sand and wind, were once full, and breathed their appropriate expression of wisdom and benificence. Its calm, majestic eye, full of intelligence, but, in being robbed of something of its original power, apparently drooping with sorrow, looks out upon the wide level plain, the repository of unknown ruins, and seems to seek the men and monuments of other days. That benign but lofty look has watched the march of generations and nations. It saw the young beauty of Memphis, and delighted in its matured and mighty magnificence. It looks at the present hour, as it it still anxiously sought that image of beauty and greatness. It seeks in vain. No wall, no tower, no place, scarcely a broken column, is visible. It hears the sound of the camel's tinkling bell, it beholds the flock of the shepherd on the plain, but the queen of cities has departed,—Memphis is no more.

Returning to Ghezeh on our way to the city of Cairo, which we reached the same day, we crossed the Nile on the pleasant and flourishing town of Old Cairo,—passing the southern extremity of the isle of Rhoda. The harbor of Old Cairo, which was crowded with the boats of the Nile, is formed in part by this island. It was here, according to the traditions of the country, near the southern end of this matchless island of flowers, that the infant Moses was concealed in the thick bulrushes on the banks of the Nile. It was here, that the daughter of Pharaoh, whose name, according to Josephus, was Thermutis, found him. It was in this region, at least, and perhaps in the schools and palaces of Heliopolis and Memphis, now buried in the dust, that he was nurtured, under the care of a protecting providence, for his high and mysterious destiny. FRIDAY, SEPEMBER 16, 1853.

☞ The interesting statement of John Neal, Esq. of Portland, published in the State of Maine, that the Bangor City agency sold annually, sixty thousand dollars worth of liquor, is now going the rounds of the newspapers as a strait forward statement of fact. We have a paper before us from Connecticut, backing of the statement as true. We say it is not true. We so stated on the first appearance of Mr Neal's article. We took the precaution to send him a copy of the paper and to pay the postage. In that paper we requested him to make the correction. But, so far as we know, he has made no correction, nor has he alluded to the subject. We again repeat that the Bangor city agency has not sold sixty thousand dollars worth of liquors in a year, nor even twenty thousand dollars worth. Mr. Neal, we think, would be doing an honest thing to correct his statement.

☞ The friends of Mr. Pilsbury are now putting their heads together for the purpose of saving their man, which they think may be done by getting Anson P. Morrill to sell out his influence in favor of Mr. Pilsbury, for Governor, in case the Pilsbury men will vote for the election of Lot M. Morrill of Augusta, for the U. S. Senate. They think that this is a point of union which may be made agreeable to the two Morrills, as it will give the family a good office, give the wild cats a Governor, and the liquor dealers comfort. How little such calculations have to do with respect for the sentiments of the people!

☞ A serious affray took place in this city on Wednesday, in which an Irishman named Joan Maha, in the employ of Mr Hebron Luce, was shot by Mr Alden Harlow, with a pistol. The ball entered Maha's breast and passed through his shoulder, and the bullet was extracted below the arm, at the back. There has been for some time a dispute as to the line of a road between the lands of Luce and Harlow. The difficulty was occasioned by a dispute as to the line of the road, and Maha was maintaining a fence which Harlow insisted should be removed, and in the affray, in some way Maha was shot. We learn that his wound is not dangerous.

It has been long known that clay is an absorbent of gases, and that putrid substances buried in it have their nauseous exhalations completely neutralized by the clay absorbing them. It is found to be an advantage to keep clay pulverized moderately fine to scatter over dung heaps, and throw into privies and cesspools, in order to absorb the ammonia, which arises often times in such places, and thereby neutralize the offensive odors, which, unless arrested in some such way, become diffused throughout the air. This chemical action of pulverized clay, is a very important and useful fact which should be remembered and acted upon. Clay in this form is a purifier, and should be liberally made use of in our city.

☞ The Tremont Row Silk and Shawl Stores of Messrs. Jones & Co., Boston, is leading off in the race for public favor in fine style. Great alterations, which nearly double the former size of the establishment, have been made during the summer, and there are now few stores of equal size that can compare with them in New England.

☞ Australia, so good with an field, is called a "nugget" at all the diggings.

The Lawyer's Story or Orphan's Wrongs. By a Member of the New York Bar, New York, J. Long & Bro her.

This is just such a book as every one will love to read on account of its exciting and touching incidents, as having relation to the family connection. We are assured that the story is founded on facts, and that we should at once have known from the naturalness of the narrative, but further we are informed that all the characters introduced are drawn from real life. There is amusement and instruction here wrought in an attractive form. The volume is illustrated and is doubtless destined to have a wide circulation.

This work may be found at the bookstores.

☞ A bachelor, recently left his boarding house, at which were a number of old maids, on account of the "miserable fare" set before him at the table.

Letter from Ex-Senator Dix.

It has been stated by the telegraph, that a letter has been written by ex-Senator Dix, "coming square up to the Baltimore platform, fugitive slave law and all." The public may be interested to see this letter, the object of which is understood to be to smoothe the way for the appointment of the distinguished ex-Senator to the post of Minister to France. The letter was first published in the Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist, and is as follows:

New York, Aug. 31, 1853.

Dr. I. P. Garvin

Dear Sir—I have just received your favor of the 28th inst., stating that I am represented by whig presses and itinerant orators in Georgia, as an Abolitionist, &c., and I thank you for the opportunity you have afforded me of saying in reply:

1st. That I am not, and never have been an Abolitionist, in any sense of that term. On the contrary I have been an open and uniform opponent of all abolition movements in this State, and elsewhere, since they commenced in 1835, to the present time. While in the Senate of the United States, I opposed the extension of slavery to free territory—a question entirely distinct from interference with slavery where it already exists. In the latter case, I have strongly opposed all external interference with it.

2d. That I have on all occasions, public and private, since the fugitive law passed, declared myself in favor of carrying it into execution in good faith, like every other law of the land.

3d. That I was in favor of a union of the Democracy of this State, which was consummated in 1850, continued in 1851, on the basis of the compromise measures, and in 1852, on the basis of the Baltimore platform.

4th. That I have since the Baltimore Convention, in June, 1852, repeatedly given my public assent to its proceedings, and acquiesced in its declarations, as an adjustment of disturbing questions, by which I was willing to abide.

On these points, I may write to you more fully in a few days, and in the mean time you are at liberty to use this brief reply to your note, as you may think proper.

I am, dear sir,
very respectfully yours,
JOHN A. DIX.

Tribute to Mr. Webster. Just previous to the adjournment of the Hawaiian Parliament, the following resolution, offered by Mr. Bishop, was passed:

Resolved, That, in common with the American people, we mourn the death of Daniel Webster, a high master of that Government, who was a firm supporter of the independence of this Kingdom.

French Opinion of the Austrian Protest.

The Siecle has the following remarks on Austria's protest in the Koszta affair:

The principles set forth in this memorandum are true but who is it that has violated them? Evidently Austria, which in a neutral port caused to be arrested, in a most offensive manner, a man placed under the protection of the flag of the United States. If the Austrian Consul had any doubt as to the legality of Mr. Kosta's naturalization, he was bound to apply to the officer in command of the American squadron, and to ask him to oppose the escape of that refugee, until the point of law had been properly cleared up. Austria, disdaining the use of legal proceedings, attempted to obtain justice for herself by force. And now she complains of having met with a legitimate opposition to her acts of violence.

We do not entertain the slightest doubt that the American corvette St. Louis would without a moment's hesitation, have opened fire on the Hussar brig, if the captain of the Austrian vessel had refused to give up M. Kosta into the hands of the French Consul until the question of nationality should have been decided. M. Kosta had not fulfilled one of the conditions essential to obtain naturalization in the United States—namely, five years of consecutive residence on the territory of the Union. But M. Kosta was admitted to swear fidelity to the American government, and he received an American passport. It was on the faith of that passport that he proceeded to Turkey, in Asia, and it is allowable to declare that the affair does not concern him any more, it lies between the government of the Union and every government which undertakes to violate the guarantee given by the United States to M. Kosta. Austria has taken good care not to place the dispute on that ground.

In the hope of gaining over to her side, France, who has always sustained the cause of neutrals, the Cabinet of Vienna has indulged in the lucubration which it has lately published, and which, of itself condemns the Austrian Consul, for, once more, if the right of neutrals has been violated, who seized on Kosta without applying to the American commodore, and without deigning to take the opinion of the authorities of Smyrna? Turkey, always accustomed to yield to a protection which does not protect her, has dismissed Ali Pasha, the Governor of Smyrna, formerly Grand Vizier, and one of the most intelligent men of the Ottoman Empire. There is no danger that the same treatment will fall on the American captain. The United States will uphold the respect due to their flag, and, rather than abandon a man protected with an American passport, they would burn down Trieste, and again cause up the Republic of Venice. They care little about the treaties of 1815, before which the Governments of Europe stop short, because these treaties were the affair of princes, at the expense of the rights of nations. In truth, when a slumberer in a kind of fetachism for the statu quo, it would be almost to be wished that Austria would venture to brave the anger of the United States. But she will not attempt it, well knowing that the Americans would not hesitate to defend the right as it requires to be defended. However, we congratulate, as of good augury, the memorandum of Austria, for it is of a nature to remove all hesitation on the part of the government of General Pierce, to stretch out a friendly hand to those persons who suffer in Europe from the pretensions and acts of Austrian despotism.

The Riot at Somerset, Ohio—Twenty Reported Killed—Order Restored.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 10

The last rumors from the seat of war at Somerset, were more peaceful. The number of killed were unknown—reported to be about 20. Rioters had been shot by the Zanesville military. A later rumor says that order had been restored, and the rioters were being tried for their offences.

The Great Western Railroad. The Great Western Railway in Canada, leading from Windsor (opposite Detroit,) to Niagara, is now complete about eighteen miles from Windsor, and it is intended to finish the whole by the 1st of January next. The whole distance is 280 miles, (nearly a strait line throughout,) is to be laid with compound rail, and, it is predicted, will be one of the best railways on the American continent. The wire bridge over the Niagara is in a good state of progress, and when the whole is completed the time from Detroit to New York city will be made in twenty hours.

Another Heavy Robbery, &c. Cosbord, Saturday P. M., Sept. 14, 1853. Last evening, when the upward Boston train of cars reached Manchester, George H. Dodge, Esq., President of the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad, left the car in which he had been riding where his carpet bag, containing money and papers to the value of about $15,000, was hanging. Upon returning, it was missing, and has not yet been recovered. The brakeman says that he took the bag from the car, (which was left at Methuen,) and carried it into another car, where it was claimed by a man in company with a woman, who came on to this city and stopped at the American House. The man registered his name as "Walter Heath," and the girl as "Elizabeth Kendrick," giving no place of residence. Both have been arrested to-day on suspicion of stealing the bag.

A Day of Prayer. The editors of the Savannah Georgian, and Columbia South Carolinian think that the calamity which has befallen New Orleans, is one that would justify the President in setting apart a day throughout the land for humiliation and prayer, and for one universal contribution of means to relieve the continued and pressing necessities of the afflicted, a suggestion worthy of public consideration.

The Protestants are not allowed to build churches in Chili. They must meet in dwelling houses, or in buildings pointing to dwelling houses. There are only two Protestant congregations in Valparaiso—an English Episcopalian and a Connecticut Congregational. They are, however, thinly attended, though the pastors are both worthy men.

The Vermont Standard, the Tempe sance organ in the State, in summing up the results of the election, concedes that a majority of the House will be found in favor of the repeal of the Maine Law. Still it thinks the Law will be safe in the hands of the Senate.

There was quite a perceptible hoar frost upon the ground at Staten Island, and also in the neighborhood of Elizabethtown, N. J., on Sunday night.

The White Mountain season is over. We see it stated that water froze an inch thick at the Glen House, White Mountains, last Thursday night.

Ex-President Tyler has fully recovered from his recent indisposition. It is said his excellent lady presented him with a fine boy, a few days since, which is the fifth little boy he has received from her.

A regular mammoth hotel upon the summit of Mount Washington is seriously contemplated to cost $30,000 at least. The young mistress are not to play the piano there in the midst of journeying clouds, and the singing player to tremble his bass above, while the thunder rattles his bass below.

Dec 13 1852 d&w

The following is from the principal accountant of the wealthy and highly respected house of Messrs. Morris & Bro. This city and presents one of the MOST WONDERFUL CURES in the annals of medical history.

Mr H G Farrell—Dear Sir Actuated by a sense of gratefulness, I submit the following as an instance of the efficacy of your great medicine. My child, three year old, was suddenly attacked with a terrible disease, which in less than six hours prostrated her to total extremity. The limbs became as rigid as marble and the flesh turned black and cold and entirely deprived of feeling, the eyes fixed, partially closed and all sight blind following this were convulsions to all sounds, the frame became contracted and so curved that when laid on its back the head and heels only touched. It seemed the child presented every appearance of being dead. Having entirely exhausted the family physician was called in, and for three weeks he labored to restore life, but all in vain, although it was blistered a dozen times and every rubefacient ointments applied. A consultation of physicians was then held, but to no purpose, the case was then brought before the Medical Society, but nothing could be suggested which had not already been done, and he decided to then tell me he could do nothing more. Next morning I commenced applying your Liniment freely over the entire length of the spine, and you may imagine a parent's joy, when after a few applications, returning mind was apparent, and it rapidly recovered with every expression of health, which did not become perfect for near a month. The child is now healthy and robust as ever. In other cases of this nature, equally occurred previously in my neighborhood all of which the children where there is no doubt if your Liniment had been used they would have recovered.

John Bunyan's Immortal Allegory

PROBABLY no book, save the Bible, has been so extensively read as Bunyan's immortal allegory

The Pilgrim's Progress

Has been translated into nearly all the different languages of Christendom, and been pursued with the deep and holy fervor by all nations. Art has lent her attractions in nearly all the forms of illustration, from the rough Wood Cut to the exquisite Steel Engraving. But to the middle of the nineteenth century, and to an American clergyman, is we indebted or the only pictorial conception of this immortal work.

The novel and sublime idea of embodying the allegory and of unfettering the same to a single page showing the wanderings of Christian from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City, presentable at one view to the eye the varied scenes through which he passed, originated with Rev DYSON HIGHT of Massachusetts. His truly original and beautiful conception was reduced to a most elegant design by HAMMATT BILLINGS, and engraved by the distinguished historical engraver, has produced after four years of labor, a picture which will take rank among the most superb and elaborate productions of human genius, taste and skill.

The picture is now ready and will be offered at the Bookstore of the Publishers, and by Agents duly appointed by the Publishers.

Price of India Proofs, $10—Prints, $5.

Green Mountain Vegetable CEMENT.

BROKEN China Glass, Earthen Ware, and Fancy Articles of every description repaired and mended, making it as strong as before broken, without injuring its appearance

This Cement which has been proved to be of great strength, will be found particularly useful in every family, the simple manner of its application is none a recommendation The adhesive property of which it possesses is so wonderful that many things will rather break in a fresh place than where they have been mended with it The variety of purposes for which it may be used are so numerous that it would be difficult to recite them Its success in mending Glass China &c, is extraordinary to no ordinary degree of heat affecting it, and as the joints are scarcely perceptible articles of this kind may be made used it for years, which otherwise would have been cast away.

McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES!

A FEW of the celebrated Safes have arrived from New York, and those who are in want of a superior article which has been severely tested for the last ten years in every county are invited to call and examine them Read what the New York Press say of them in regard to the late great fire in New York Further comment is unnecessary

[From the Journal of Commerce of August 27th]

Messrs B F Pond & Hitchcock of 56 Water street oil merchants informs us that their Safe (one of McFarland's Fire Proofs) in the great fire of the Pearl st House a thing expected for thirteen hours in the combined effects of burning Rosin and other Oils and a broken Gas Pipe directly under neath it preserved their books and papers in the most perfect order They were not injured in the least manner

[From the New York Evening Mirror, of Aug 27th]

McFARLAND'S SAFES AT THE GREAT FIRE OF THE PEARL STREET HOUSE.—Looking at the ruins of this great fire yesterday, we noticed in Water street several of McFarland's Safes, which were being taken out of the ruins, the inside of which were all in good order. One of them in particular drew a especial notice It belonged to Messrs Pond and Hitchcock oil merchants No 56 Water street and was exposed to the very hottest part of the fire being covered with burning oil and spirits and directly under a broken gas pipe from which the gas was escaping in large quantities, and producing an intense heat. It remained in that fiery furnace for thirteen hours and we are informed by Mr Pond the owner that, when opened his books and papers were found to be in a perfect state of preservation, not even being scorched and hardly bearing the smell of fire, thus proving itself a perfect salamander Every merchant should examine them and convince himself of their fire proof qualities, as some half dozen others of the same make were in the fire and every one preserved its contents from the least damage.

From the New York Tribune of August 30th]

The reputation of McFarland's celebrated Fire Proof Safes have lost nothing at the last great fires as usual preserving their contents uninjured, and saving many thousands of dollars for their owners These safes have built for themselves a colossal reputation and are adding to it at every fire McFarland's motto is "Excelsior"

[From the New York Herald of Aug. 25th]

An inter convincing proof of the superiority of McFarland's Fire Proof Safes over all others as a protection against fire is the Safe which can now be seen at the ruins of the great fire on Tuesday night at the Pearl st House where it was exposed in the oil store of Messrs Pond & Hitchcock No 56 Water st for thirteen hours to the combined effects of burning oil and spirits Books and papers made were no even scorched

☞ These Safes are for sale at No 49 West Market Square, Bangor

The astonishing success which has attended this wonderful medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude and General Prostration or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion or indulgence of the passions in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact as a remedy for these complaints it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy or any thing that has scientifically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty, THE WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODULTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested and its virtues proclaimed by the highest council of the faculty of Europe, as well as by medical men in this country. It is the only medicine ever discovered which will reach the root of the disease, it will not heal the effect merely but eradicate the cause. It will not heal the least delicate female but do good. It will not disappoint. It will not leave the patient worse than before taking. It will not injure the most delicate constitution. It will not stimulate. It will not cure in a day. It will not cure in a week. It will not cure in a month. It will not cure in a year. It will cure in time. It will cure when all else has failed. It will cure when all else has failed.
